CLASS DESCRIPTION

KANSAS MINIMUM STANDARDS - Bill Haverkamp

This class is the review of the Kansas Minimum Standards. The class will be conducted as an "open forum," providing attendees the opportunity to ask questions.

This course will provide two PDHs toward the education requirement of KAR 66-14-1.

John Calhoun - Steve Brosemer

John Calhoun, Surveyor General of Kansas and Nebraska, circa 1858.

Surveyor General Calhoun will discuss the progress of surveys and the deputy surveyors in the Territory, interwoven with the political intrigue known as "Bleeding Kansas."

HubTack - Andy Parker

Understand HubTack. How we process updates, tips and tricks on using the HubTack System, as well as the future direction. We hope to be demonstrating the new user interface, which will also bring some new features.

Survey Evidence and Procedure - Jeff Lucas

There is a line of thinking inside and outside the surveying community that goes something like this: The surveyor's only role is to deal with the facts as contained in the client's deed; all other issues with regard to boundaries can only be determined by a court of competent jurisdiction. The obvious problem with this line of thinking is that if this is truly the case, society does not need land surveyors. Boundary determinations boil down to two questions: A question of law and a question of fact. "The question of what is a boundary line is a matter of law, but the question of where a boundary line, or a corner, is actually located is a question of fact." Walleigh v. Emery, (PA.Super.Court. 1960). This seminar will explore both of the questions fully, as well as the topics of evidence and procedures for the determination of a well-reasoned opinion on boundaries. State-specific law will be incorporated into this seminar in the process of answering these and many other questions. PowerPoint presentation.

Retracement and the 2009 Manual - Jeff Lucas

Is the Manual relevant to your practice? Perhaps we will answer that question once and for all. The "next edition" of the Manual is out; that is, the Manual of Surveying Instructions 2009 (2009 Manual), which effectively replaces the previous 1973 edition of the Manual. This seminar will explore those chapters that are most relevant to the land surveyor in private practice who must deal with the system of rectangular surveys, most commonly referred to as the Public Land Survey System (PLSS). The 2009 Manual gives expanded treatment of the duties and responsibilities of the local surveyor who was to subdivide the sections into their aliquot parts and the good faith efforts of the original entryman in finding his claim on the ground. The new Manual also corrects over 100 years of misinterpretation of the evidence standards applicable to corners within the system, but does it also introduce new confusion? Original surveys and retracement surveys will be discussed under the instructions of the Manual. PowerPoint presentation.

SPEAKERS BIO

Bill Haverkamp, PS

Bill has been in the surveying profession since 1977, beginning as an entry-level survey team member on a Kansas Department of Transportation (KDOT) preliminary design survey crew. Upon licensure in 1986, Bill was promoted to a Crew Chief position, then in 1990 to the Survey Coordinator position for the Agency, managing KDOT and consultant survey resources for engineering survey and land surveying projects. He has presented numerous continuing education courses relative to KDOT Survey Practice, Route Surveying, Research Methods and Kansas Minimum Standards. Bill retired from KDOT in the spring of 2017. A member of KSLs since 1978, Bill has served terms as a Director, President, and Past President. In July, 2016 he was appointed as a Land Survey Member to the Kansas State Board of Technical Professions.

Steve Brosemer, PS

Steve has a degree in American History and Secondary Education. He is the son of his mentor, the late James H. Brosemer, RLS #82. In the last 32 years, Steve has been an owner or partner in his current business, GeoTech, Inc., and has provided land surveying services of every possible type to both the private and public sectors. Steve served as President of KSLs in 1988 and 1989, and is currently a member of the KSLs Charitable Foundation Board, and the Immediate Past Chair of KSBTP. Steve is a former Chair of the Emporia Area Chamber of Commerce and is a Trustee of the Lyon County Historical Society.

Andy Parker

Andy is one of the founders of HubTack, which began business in 2005 with the state of Oklahoma. Andy has over 25 years experience managing computer and Internet businesses. Prior to starting Hubtack, Inc., Andy was founder and CEO of Mercantec, Inc., pioneer of the first electronic commerce solution commercially available on the Internet, with a distribution in 13 countries to over 200 internet service providers. Andy has also served in various executive positions with companies including Unitech Systems, a world leader in Information Integrity solutions, Spyglass, Inc., a global provider of web browser and server technology, and Tandem Computers (now Hewlett-Packard), the leading supplier of fault tolerant computers. Andy holds a B.S. in Computer and Information Sciences from the University of Oregon.

Jeffery N. Lucas, RLS, Esq

Jeff is in private practice in Birmingham, Alabama. Jeff has been in the surveying business since 1976. He is a licensed land surveyor registered in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and Tennessee. Jeff is a licensed attorney and was admitted to the Alabama State Bar in 2003. Jeff is the author of "Alabama Boundary Law," "The Pincushion Effect," "The Multiple Monument Dilemma in American Land Surveying" and "Illinois Boundary Law." He has also authored over 100 articles on surveying and boundary issues and writes a regular column for P.O.B. Magazine since 2004. He is currently the Alabama Division Manager for ESP Associates, P.A.
